

The EMBBA

Biosecurity and Health advice for Attendees and Purchasers of Livestock

Always wash your hands before eating or drinking

Never place food or drink near cages etc.

Do not touch any Birds or cages that contain or have previously contained birds. If you do then wash your hands immediately.

Make sure you have filled in an EMBBA traceability form for each individual purchase.

Always quarantine birds for a minimum period of 1 week before placing them within your collection.

Any signs of illness inform a veterinary surgeon.

If cages and aviaries are dry and dusty then dampen down with a suitable disinfectant before catching or disturbing birds.

If you purchased birds with disposable carrying boxes make sure the box is disposed of immediately.
